7. Mooring Officers

Income down this year by £300.00, the result of 3 parties not paying fees. Its not so much the money so much as being left with decaying boats. Despite numerous letters, phone calls and e mails, there has been no response, however for the time being further attempts will be made to contact the owners. It was queried as to the conditions of the boats and do they constitute a risk to other boats.

8. Neighbour Watch

Watch out for the usual scams, either through the post or via telephone or e mails.

The darker nights are coming, so please watch out for your neighbours.

[Do you really mean this? - webmaster]

9. Conservation Report

Not available for this meeting

10. Environmental Report

Abandoned boats could cause damage to the bed of the creek.

11. Planning issues

The appeal for planning approval at Crannog is open until 24th September. Must only comment on issues that have not been previously submitted.

The new drawing shows a gate to be installed and a permeable surface laid where proposed entrance to orchard is sited. A post box has appeared. Action to be taken as to whether the address has been lodged with the Post Office.

Nigel has offered to survey the number of cars, walkers, cyclists and horse riders who are using the road at weekends, starting the weekend of 14th September.

12. CIC News

Same as previous notes. Scrap store bursting at the seams, gold mine for hobby makers and children during the holidays.

(This item not to be included in further agendas)

13. Forder Activities

Fete was extremely well attended and a very successful event for the village.

Justin has been booked to open the event in 2020.

A thank you letter had been received from Saltash Sailing Cadets.

Film nights.

The last film, Fisherman's Friends the best attended film ever.

14. Future Events

Coffee mornings. Jane's next coffee morning will be on 27th September 10am till 2p.m, this coincides with Macmillan's yearly fund raising event.

Jane has decided to step down from being responsible for running the monthly coffee morning and feels it could be run on a rota and is prepared co-ordinate a rota, so if you are interested please contact Jane direct, telephone 848805
Tony formally thanked Jane for all her hard work and especially the baked goodies.

Creeky Crafters

Still the 1st and 3rd Mondays in the month. Successful gathering, bring any craft you want or just turn up for a chat.

Carole asked was there any support for a village cheese and wine/bar-b-cue Creek Side event. 4th October was decided upon.

15. Correspondence

None

16. AOB

Volunteers are needed for planting daffodils between the seat on left hand side of the creek all the way to where the lower wood emerges into the field. The date yet to be circulated.

GDPR was making it difficult to send out block e mails, need to obtain permission in advance.

A reminder that new Saltash Cards are available from 4 Fore Street, need these if using the Wednesday Hopper Bus.

The details held by the Charity Commission need updating – Tony to liaison with John.

Saturday 14th September, Extreme Rebellion will be marching down Fore Street, please support if you are able to.

Tuesday 26th September, Saltash Environment Action Group are holding a talk given by Rebecca Pearce, titled 'Christmas Without the Trimmings.'

Roger commented on the state of the trees alongside waterfront, with their additional leaf and weight, should they get blown down they could take the wall and ground away. Before a proposal for remedial work can be made to Cornwall Council, advice from a tree surgeon needs to be obtained. Chris has a tree surgeon visiting his property in the near future and feels he may be able to assist. On behalf of RNLI Pat asked if they could use the hut to run a coffee morning between 10 and 12pm. Chris Holland objected because of the parking. Possible hiring and charging or donation was to be discussed with Marion. [Marianne Beale? - webmaster]

It was mentioned that as flood risks had increased in this area, house insurance premium may increase significantly.

There being no further business the meeting closed at 8.42p.m

Next meeting October 14th
